

Six Degrees

Instructions: Six degrees of separation is the idea that all things in the world are six or fewer steps away from each other. Using your smart device and a little research, propose a theory for how the three images/items/people below are related. When you think you have it, turn to the person sitting next to you and share.

